MR. BRYAN NOT IN IT

He Can Not Carry His Own Precinct.

JUDGE LANSING KNOWS HIM

The County Will Give a Majority For McKinley, and Lincoln Will Do the Right Thing by the Ohio Man—A Big Crowd at the Meeting.

The Hon. William Jennings Bryan, with all his bluster and noise, will not be able to carry his own precinct, and the city where he resides will give a good majority for Major McKinley.

So said Judge Lansing, a resident of Lincoln, Neb., and one of Mr. Bryan's neighbors. The gentleman resides in the next ward, not far from Mr. Bryan's home. He knows him very well, and has so long been a resident of the city that he can talk intelligently on the situation.

"Mr. Bryan will not carry the precinct where he resides," said the judge to a NEWS REVIEW man at the Thompson House today. "When I say that don't understand me as giving you my own opinion, although that is the conclusion I reached several months ago. It is a matter of common report in Lincoln that Mr. Bryan will not only be defeated in the precinct, ward, city and state, but that he will fail to carry the country. My political experience has extended over 12 years, and I know Nebraska very well. Although I have been out of the state for over a month, the indications were against Mr. Bryan when I left, and frequent letters from Lincoln tell me he is gaining no ground. If East Liverpool and the rest of the country does for Mr. Bryan what his neighbors in Nebraska will do I fear he will never see the inside of the White House as president.

Judge Lansing is talking to a great crowd of people in National park, Chester, this afternoon. He is accompanied by Hon. Patrick O'Farrell, of Washington, and together they will go through West Virginia and Virginia, having been sent out by the national committee. Many East Liverpool people crossed the river this afternoon, and joined in the demonstration.

SEND MRS. LEASE.

She Would Be Better Than Bryan or Teller.

EDITOR NEWS REVIEW—I am not at all certain that the Bryan club will accept my suggestion, but I can't help moving that they hire Mrs. Lease instead of Bryan or Teller to preside over the great meeting they expect to have before the campaign is over. She is a flowery orator, dresses well and has enough sense left to make money out of her knowledge of the financial question. It would also be eminently appropriate to have her speak, for this silver craze is nothing but an old woman's doctrine anyhow, a job lot of bargains in politics where you get something for nothing.

PATRIOT.

LIGHTEST OF HER TONNAGE.

The Kanawha Has No Equal on the River.

The Kanawha passed down today, having left Pittsburgh ahead of time because the river was falling. It is the lightest boat of its tonnage on the river, and with a fair load of freight drew only 20 inches of water. The boat is 185 feet long and 36 feet beam, and has a five foot hold. It has a Texas stermounted by a pilot house, and is painted a dazzling white. The cabin is roomy, and the staterooms will accommodate 100 passengers. The boat is owned by Bay Bros., who have had a number of boats in the Pittsburgh-Charleston trade.

POLLED THE CLUB.

An Indication as to How the City Stands on Silver.

Politics furnishes abundant food for conversation at the tables of the Delmonico Boarding club, and some of the members conceived the idea of polling the organization. The result showed 20 Republicans for honest money and four Democrats for free silver. A leading politician when he heard of the poll at once declared as his belief that a similar proportion was the feeling throughout the city. Another was not so radical, but said he was in position to know something about it, and thought it was three to one.

IN EARNEST.

The Holiness People Not Joking About Those Cures.

A leading member of Holiness Ward's congregation says there is no joke about their power to heal the sick, and claims he knows of a number of instances where people have been made strong through the system. One woman was cured of the fever and another of some serious complaint because Ward and his followers carried out the provisions of the Bible. These names are freely quoted by the holiness people, but they mention others whose names, they say, they do not know.

A NEW IDEA.

Papier-Mache Samples For Crockery Salesmen Are Advocated.

A leading trade journal thinks that papier-mache samples are the proper thing for crockery salesmen, and can't understand why large pottery concerns do not adopt them. The weight of iron bound trunks filled with crockery is a big item each year in excess baggage. The plan is to have samples made of papier-mache, which could be pressed in the regular moulds, decorated in the regular manner, except firing, and then glazed with a soluble glass, giving them the appearance of decorated pottery.

THAT GREEN WATER.

Why the River Is Different in Color This Year.

The river has taken on a beautiful shade of green, and much comment is heard in consequence. The reason assigned is the vast amount of sulphur in the water. The mines along the Youghiogheny river in Pennsylvania have been idle for months, and a short time ago they were started. Much water accumulated in the mines during the dull period, and when this was pumped into the river its effect was seen. The Youghiogheny is the year round as green if not greener than is the Ohio at present.

FINAL ARRANGEMENTS.

The Directors Are Ready For the Opening of the Library.

Five hundred and forty of the new books for the library have arrived, and the committee are working day and night to get them placed in position. The board of directors met last night, and made all final arrangements for the opening, and it is probable that before the week is over it will be formally opened. There is yet over 100 books to arrive. Secretary Charles Danberg will act as librarian until further arrangements are made.

STEALING GRAPES.

The Small Boy Is Helping Himself In McKinnon Addition.

Many complaints are heard of the depredations of small boys in the upper part of the city, and grape arborers suffer every night. The youngsters have been robbing fruit trees and vines for some time, and forbearance is rapidly ceasing to be any sort of a virtue. William Grafton is one of the victims, and in his case the boys took all the grapes they could find. The police will keep an unusually wide open eye on that part of the city.

CAUGHT SALEM.

Merchants Can Sympathize With the Local Brethren.

East Liverpool merchants were not the only business men who were caught for advertisements on posters which were never distributed. A private letter from Salem states that the business men of that city were caught in exactly the same way the men worked here, and their loss would amount to over $200. The stock sale plan worked very well, and many business men are in the same box.

FOOT RACES.

Caused a Disturbance on Second Street Last Night.

The challenges and counter challenges for a foot race passing between Joseph Smith and Erasmus Phillips came near causing a fight last evening. A friend of Phillips noticed the challenge of Smith in the NEWS REVIEW, and went after him. Hot language ensued and a free for all was prevented by the interference of bystanders. The parties are willing to race.

THREW A BOTTLE.

A Drunk Severely Cut the Leg of Floyd Miller.

Floyd, the eleven year old son of James Miller, of Sixth street, was struck on the ankle with a bottle thrown by a drunken man last evening. The bottle broke and cut a gash in the leg of young Miller, and this morning he was unable to walk. The lad's father is looking for the person who did the act, and if he can be apprehended he will be prosecuted.

Mr. Smith Will Return.

Henry Smith, of Huston addition, contemplates taking a trip soon to the land of his birth, Schlierbach, Germany. He says if, perchance, Bryan should be elected he will remain there, as he realizes the country will be plunged into more hard times.

SENT TO THE WORKS

Judge Young Disposed of a Pair of Culprits.

MRS. ORR WANTS A DIVORCE

She Claims Her Husband Dragged Her Up a Flight of Stairs by Her Hair—An Executor Would Be Relieved of a Trust. Another Case.

LISBON, Sept. 2.—[Special.]—Judge Young had a pair of offenders in court today, and gave them a few weeks in the workhouse where they can think over their evil deeds.

Minnie Whitacre, of Wellsville, was the first. She was brought here a few weeks ago, charged with theft. She broke into a houseboat, and being in need of raiment walked away with a wardrobe valued at $30. She was allowed to plead guilty to larceny, and got off with 30 days in the works and a fine of $25.

James Johnson, a colored man who said his home was in Pittsburgh, was given 30 days in the Cleveland workhouse, and to stand committed until the costs are all paid. He said he was guilty of stealing a pair of boots from a country store a few miles from Lisbon.

Mrs. Alice E. Orr, of East Liverpool, wants a divorce. She was married eight years ago to Charles V. Orr in Beaver, and has had little happiness since then. The wife was brutally treated until three years ago, when her husband left her, and now she wants a legal separation. A few years after the marriage, she says in the petition, he struck her in the face, knocked her down, and trampled upon her. When she attempted to escape he seized her by the hair, and dragged her up a flight of stairs. At present his place of residence is unknown.

James E. Campbell, executor of the estate of the late Mrs. Gamble, asked the court to be relieved of a trust. When the lady died she left $50 for the purpose of cleaning the cemetery at Bethesda church in Franklin township, and $100 for the same purpose at St. Philip's church at Dunganon. The remainder of her estate was also to go to the Dunganon church. He asks that all the money be paid over.

The case of Mrs. Henrietta Grandon against Frank E. Grosshans, is being heard in probate court this afternoon. A number of East Liverpool attorneys are present.

CLEVELAND CHEERED.

Gold Democrats Raised a Shout at Sound of His Name.

INDIANAPOLIS, Sept. 2.—[Special.]—The convention of gold Democrats met here today, and many more delegates than were expected are in attendance. Flower was made temporary chairman, and made a short but enthusiastic speech. He said Bryan endorsed the revolutionary planks in the platform made by the Chicago convention, and scored the candidate for his appeals to class prejudice. The speaker had occasion to mention the name of President Cleveland, and the convention showed its sympathy with him by prolonged cheering.

The weather was clear and pleasant, and delegates were slow in reaching the hall decorated with gold emblems. Many were golden red in their button holes. General Palmer called the convention to order, and Bishop White made the prayer. The roll of states showed almost all represented by full delegations, but Montana had no delegates. A recount developed just 41 states represented, and several territories have delegates present. The total number is 850. The Massachusetts delegates each carried a flag as they marched to their seats.

Rumors are many. It is said an effort will be made to substitute Black for Bragg, making the ticket Black and Buckner. It is believed the resolution favoring an income tax will be voted down.

A PROCLAMATION.

Mayor Gilbert Asks All to Take a Rest on Labor Day.

Mayor Gilbert this morning issued the following proclamation: "According to the law of Ohio, Monday, Sept. 7, is Labor day, an important holiday for thousands of the people of this great state. It is the time set apart for the enjoyment of the great mass of humanity, a day when the workmen leave the shops and factories, and gathering their families and friends about them, spend a few hours in pleasure. This day of recreation is an important factor in our public institutions, for when labor is sufficiently prosperous to take time for recreation all other men have equal cause for happiness.

"I, A. V. Gilbert, mayor of the city of East Liverpool, recommend that as far as it is possible the people as a whole observe the day; that there be a suitable demonstration, and that all business houses and residences be decorated with the national colors. Let business men and manufacturers join with the rest of the people in the celebration of this occasion, so important to us all.

"A. V. GILBERT,
"Mayor."

This is the first time the mayor has called for a general observance of Labor day, but the gentleman believes the celebration has grown to such proportions as to demand official recognition.

A MAD DASH.

A Huckster's Horse Rolled Down a Steep Hill.

John Green is a huckster who lives near the brewery. He owns a horse and wagon, and last evening his property figured in an accident which will cost him many dollars. The horse ran away on West Market street, and going down the hill attempted to turn into Sheridan avenue. The wagon did not take the curve in the right manner, and the horse fell. It rolled over several times, and the wagon was broken. The horse was not seriously hurt.

CLEANING UP.

Prisoners Almost All Disposed of by the Mayor.

Mrs. Joe Houck was arraigned by Mayor Gilbert last evening and fined $7.60 for being drunk and disorderly. She paid the amount and was released. Peter Delaney secured the money to cancel his debt, and was permitted to depart. Lizzie Brighouse is the only occupant of the jail now, but will be released as soon as some of her many admirers manifest sufficient interest to pay her fine.

IN TRENTON.

A Former Well Known Young Man of This Place Was Married.

Mr. Louis Samler and Miss Sophia Grumbacher, both of Trenton, were married at that place today. Mr. Samler formerly lived here, and is well known in the city. William Erlanger, Sr., is attending the nuptials, and accompanied by Miss Sophia Samler, of Philadelphia, will arrive here Friday. Miss Samler is the affianced bride of William Erlanger Jr., this city.

A MARLATT VICTIM.

Louis Bell Was In Town on Business Today.

The criminal acts of Ira Marlatt, the penitentiary demon, were recalled today by the presence in the city of Louis Bell, who played a prominent part in the event which put Marlatt behind the bars. When Ashton was killed Bell threw up his arm to save a boy, and the bullet passed through. His arm is still stiff. Mr. Bell has not been in the city for several years.

DAYS OF GRACE.

There Are No More of Them in Banking Business.

The state law abolishing days of grace on commercial paper became operative yesterday, and in future the accustomed three days will not be observed by the banks. The law covers all bonds, notes, bills and checks payable at a certain day or on sight. All holidays are provided for in the law, and any statute conflicting with the provisions of the new law are repealed.

A New Sewer.

The sewer commissioners met last night, and made arrangements to have a six inch sewer pipe placed on Ravine street and connected with the line on Bradshaw avenue. Several matters of minor importance were discussed, but not acted upon.

The Bell Tapped.

Workmen engaged in putting up a telegraph pole on Broadway this afternoon, accidentally touched a wire, and the result was a loud ring from the bell on city hall. The public thought it was fire, but soon discovered the mistake.

Unformed.

Doc Howard's drum corps have been fitted out with uniforms, and on all future occasions they will accompany Company E and furnish time for the soldier boys while marching.

A Sudden Attack.

Thomas Bott, of West End, is suffering from a severe attack of lumbago.

NO MORE ANNOYANCE

People Must Not Follow the Patrol Wagon.

WHEELMEN ARE ALL WARNED

To Keep Out of the Way, and Give the Driver a Clear Road—There Must Be No Crowds When Officers Are Making Arrests—Chief Johnson Is Determined.

Chief Johnson has decided that crowds must not follow the patrol when it is called out for duty.

The chief has frequently noticed the interest manifested by the general public when the patrol appears on the street, and on more than one occasion has seen narrow escapes from serious injury. When the wagon dashes along the streets wheelmen invariably get in line. Some find a good place in front of the horses, while others peddle along at the sides and in the rear. Should an accident happen some one would be hurt, and then it would be necessary to issue an order of this kind. The chief believes in taking time by the forelock, and ordering the practice stopped now. Another reason is found in the annoyance occasioned when arrests are being made. Great crowds gather about the officers, and they have trouble in carrying out their intentions. The crowd was so large when an arrest was being made the other evening the police could scarcely move around, and the greatest forbearance prevented the chief from making wholesale arrests. The next time, however, some of the crowd will be given a lesson if they do not take this as a warning.

STOLE HIS COAT.

Richard Nagle Is Minus a Useful Article.

Richard Nagle, a member of the street force, is minus a coat. He was working on Thompson hill this morning, and removing the garment hung it up. Returning some time later Nagle found his coat was missing. He instituted a search, but was unable to obtain any trace of his property.

APPLIED FOR A DIVORCE.

Prof. Harry Moore, of Hookstown, Filed a Petition.

Prof. Harry Moore, a resident of Hookstown, who is well known in this city, has applied for a divorce in the courts of Beaver county. The plaintiff states they were married in November, 1894, and for a year his wife has willfully absented herself from home without just cause.

A LISBON WEDDING.

The Groom Is Well Known in East Liverpool.

LISBON, Sept. 2.—[Special.]—Charles E. Wynne, of East Liverpool, and Miss Ida Eaholtz, of this place, were married last evening at the home of the bride by Reverend Morton, of the Methodist Episcopal church. A number of friends of the contracting parties were present.

The Bryan Club.

The free silverites met in Whittenberger hall last night and transacted routine business, after which they listened to addresses from Dr. G. P. Kirk and John B. Hayes, of Wellsville. Some new members were enrolled.

Calling at the Factories.

Doctor Rhodes, a former resident of Columbiana who is interested in the development of extensive clay deposits in North Carolina, was in the city calling on the purchasing agents of the various potteries.

In a New Place.

Allen P. Allen gave up the position of porter at the Grand, and left last evening for Pittsburgh, where he will remain several days. From there he will go to Rochester, N. Y., to take up a clerical situation.

A Correction.

The People's Store has 5,000 yards each of chaffies and dimities to close out instead of 500 yards each, as mentioned in their big ad on third page.

No Meeting.

The John G. Wooley Prohibition club failed to hold their regular meeting last night, because an extra meeting was held last week.

A Judge at the Fair.

J. A. McIntosh, of Cannon's Mill, went to Youngstown last evening, where he will act as judge at the fair at that place.

Ready For Shipments.

The repairs on the wharfbait will be finished tomorrow, and it will then be in readiness to receive shipments.

A Hucker's Horse Rolled Down a Steep Hill.

John Green is a hucker who lives near the brewery. He owns a horse and wagon, and last evening his property figured in an accident which will cost him many dollars. The horse ran away on West Market street, and going down the hill attempted to turn into Sheridan avenue. The wagon did not take the curve in the right manner, and the horse fell. It rolled over several times, and the wagon was broken. The horse was not seriously hurt.

CLEANING UP.

Prisoners Almost All Disposed of by the Mayor.

Mrs. Joe Houck was arraigned by Mayor Gilbert last evening and fined $7.60 for being drunk and disorderly. She paid the amount and was released. Peter Delaney secured the money to cancel his debt, and was permitted to depart. #### DAYS OF GRACE.

There Are No More of Them in Banking Business.

The state law abolishing days of grace on commercial paper became operative yesterday, and in future the accustomed three days will not be observed by the banks. ### NO MORE ANNOYANCE

People Must Not Follow the Patrol Wagon.

WHEELMEN ARE ALL WARNED

To Keep Out of the Way, and Give the Driver a Clear Road—There Must Be No Crowds When Officers Are Making Arrests—Chief Johnson Is Determined.

Chief Johnson has decided that crowds must not follow the patrol when it is called out for duty.

The chief has frequently noticed the interest manifested by the general public when the patrol appears on the street, and on more than one occasion has seen narrow escapes from serious injury. When the wagon dashes along the streets wheelmen invariably get in line. Some find a good place in front of the horses, while others peddle along at the sides and in the rear. Should an accident happen some one would be hurt, and then it would be necessary to issue an order of this kind. The chief believes in taking time by the forelock, and ordering the practice stopped now. Another reason is found in the annoyance occasioned when arrests are being made. Great crowds gather about the officers, and they have trouble in carrying out their intentions. The crowd was so large when an arrest was being made the other evening the police could scarcely move around, and the greatest forbearance prevented the chief from making wholesale arrests. The next time, however, some of the crowd will be given a lesson if they do not take this as a warning.

STOLE HIS COAT.

Richard Nagle Is Minus a Useful Article.

Richard Nagle, a member of the street force, is minus a coat. He was working on Thompson hill this morning, and removing the garment hung it up. Returning some time later Nagle found his coat was missing. He instituted a search, but was unable to obtain any trace of his property.

A LISBON WEDDING.

AN increased majority in Vermont shows the world how New England observes the silver fallacy.

CANDIDATE BRYAN WAS as good an attraction in Columbus last night as the big potatoes and other exhibits at the state fair.

THAT sensible convention in Indianapolis seems to be surprising those Democrats who believed Candidate Bryan owned the earth and a liberal section of the firmament.

MR. CARLISLE declares that President Cleveland will support the ticket nominated at Indianapolis, and he is the boy who usually does Grover's talking when the big fellow is busy fishing.

No potter, whether he be operative or manufacturer, should vote for Bryan, an individual who can not understand why a skilled mechanic should make good wages when western farmers can not get rich from the products of their farms.

ELECT REPUBLICAN CONGRESSMEN.

The friends of honest money should not forget the responsibility resting upon the national house of representatives in the next congress. It matters not what the result of the presidential election will be, the balance of power lies in the house. If Mr. Bryan should succeed in winning a sufficient number of votes to give him the victory he can do nothing if a majority of representatives are honest money men. He will have a millstone about his neck, his hands will be tied, and his boasted promise of free silver will amount to no more than the effort responsible for its utterance. This district will have a fusion candidate, and he will be for free silver. Some leaders will oppose the movement, but their influence will amount to almost nothing against the crowd who have come out for flat money. There are many candidates for the place, and the indications point to the nomination of a free silverite. He will oppose Hon. R. W. Taylor, the gentleman who so ably represents the district. He is a protectionist and a sound money man, and no better recommendation can be asked. Here represents the common sense of statesmanship, and should have the vote of every man, regardless of partisan view, who desires to see the country prosper and wax strong during the next administration.

I will reopen the meat market formerly operated by me on Thursday, Sept. 3, 1896, and will have for sale the best grades of meat the market affords; also dressed poultry and everything good to eat in the line of meats.

A TOUR THROUGH OHIO

Bryan Spoke at Springfield and Other Points Today.

LARGE MEETING AT COLUMBUS.

The Democratic Candidate Spoke From Four Sides of a Platform to Fully Thirty Thousand People—Will Speak at Toledo Tonight.

KENTON, O., Sept. 2.—Mr. and Mrs. Bryan arrived at Springfield from Columbus at 8:45 this morning. Mr. Bryan made an address and at 11 o'clock left for this place, making speeches at Urbana and Bellefontaine enroute. The party remained here an hour and a half, the candidate speaking to a big crowd, and then left for Toledo at 2 o'clock by way of Findlay and Bowling Green. The train will reach Toledo at 3:30, where Mr. Bryan will speak tonight.

Mr. Bryan's meeting at Columbus was a bigger demonstration, in comparison to the sizes of the two places, than the one at Cleveland. He spoke from a platform facing the eastern front of the capitol building.

About the four sides were swarming men, women and children, a large part of the city's population, reinforced by visitors to the state fair now in progress. There were fully 30,000 in the crowd.

On account of the size of his audience Mr. Bryan adopted a novel method of speaking, talking to sections of the crowd alternately from each of the four sides of the platform, even then not more than a tenth of the people could hear him. He was introduced by Hon. Allen W. Thurman, son of the "Old Roman," who has been fighting for free silver in Ohio for several years, and after the candidate's speech the Democratic nominee for congress in the Columbus district, Hon. J. Lentz, addressed the remains of the crowd.

As Mr. Bryan practically made four speeches, speaking to one side at a time, we give as near as we can the four speeches as a whole. He said:

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN—This is the largest audience to which I ever tried to speak. I have had occasion to talk where the audience was the house, but I never had occasion to talk where the audience filled all outdoors. If you all vote as you are now shouting I don't see how there can be any question about the triumph of free silver in the state of Ohio.

I desire to impress upon you the fact that the enemy we are fighting in this campaign is an enemy which has never gone into an open battle. The advocates of the gold standard have never dared to submit the gold standard to the arbitrament of a ballot. Every step that has been taken has been taken by stealth and without the approval of the American people. When silver was demonetized in 1873 the people had not discussed it and persons who were members of congress and who voted upon the measure testified that they did not understand that the bill demonetized silver. When the crime was discovered and the American people attempted to restore silver to its ancient place by the side of gold, the opponents of free silver forced the Bland act upon congress as a compromise, and as soon as the Bland act went into force the money people and the silver people proceeded to repeal the Bland act and left nothing in its place. But the silver sentiment grew until 1890, and in that year the opponents of free coinage, being afraid of the passage of a free coinage bill, secured another compromise, which was known as the Sherman law.

In the support of that measure Senator Sherman made a speech, and in the course of that speech he went on to say that we required more than $2,000,000 new money every year to keep pace with the population and industries, and he advocated that measure on the ground that it gave to the people more money, and yet in his Recollections published only a few months ago, you will find that Senator Sherman says that he was in favor of the Sherman law simply to prevent free coinage and that he was willing to vote for its repeal the day after it was enacted if he could prevent the substitution of free coinage. There you will find the chief—the chief supporter of the gold standard policy in the United States, supporting a bill because it gave money to the American people and then declaring that he would have voted for the repeal of it the very next day.

[Applause.] They secured the repeal of the Sherman law and they pretended that when they got that out of the way that they would restore silver to its former place. There were some who said that the trend of the Sherman law was to that end and that we had to clear away the rubbish before we could build up a good system; and there were others who said that if we stood by free silver we would drive Europe to bimetalism. But those who made this arrangement have proven that they were not sincere and that their purpose was to deceive the American people. [Applause.]

In this campaign every party, in its platform so far, has declared that the principle of bimetalism is better than a gold standard, and yet in spite of these declarations you know that there is a body of people in the United States, who under cover of friendship to bimetalism, are seeking to fasten a gold standard upon the American people.

Let us suppose that you had free and unlimited coinage of gold and silver at the present legal ratio of 16 to 1. Then what? Why, any person in the world owning silver bullion could bring that bullion to our mints and have it converted into full legal tender silver dollars, just like the ones that you use today. Now, how could you be injured? Suppose some man made up his mind to injure the American people under free coinage. How would he do it? Why, he would take his silver to our mint. Suppose a thousand dollars of it, and have it coined into dollars; then he would take these dollars out to hurt the American people with them, and how would he do it? He would take that money home and he would be required to pay the freight on it, and he would lose the cost of coinage and lose the freight both ways and we could stand it longer than he could.

Ah, you say that he would trade that silver for gold and take the gold away and leave the silver. Where would he get the gold? Would he get it at the treasury of the United States? Not under bimetalism, because under bimetalism the government does not agree to swap, but under bimetalism the government converts the silver bullion into silver money and gold bullion into gold coin and makes them legal tender for all debts, public and private. But it does not agree to redeem a gold dollar in silver or a silver dollar in gold. [Applause.] So that under bimetalism this foreigner could not exchange his silver at the mint for gold unless the government was disposed to let him do it. Where would he get the gold? He would have to find somebody with the gold; he could not hunt anybody by trading silver for gold until he found somebody who had the gold, and that would let most of the people of the United States out of danger. There is another way that he might do. He might, instead of taking the silver home, instead of giving it to us, instead of trading it to us for gold, he might trade it to us for property. Whenever we have anything to sell, we are looking for a man who has the money to trade for what we have to sell, and instead of being frightened, if he will just let us know when he is coming with his silver, to exchange for our products, we will meet him at the depot with a brass band and escort him through the city and show him where the property is that he can buy.

There was another demonstration paid the Bryan party when they left Cleveland for Columbus. About the hotel and depot large crowds had gathered in order to catch a parting glance of the nominee. The Columbus reception committee arrived in this city and took charge of the party. A special car had been provided and it was decorated inside and out with bunting. The train was delayed an hour, mainly on account of the crowds, which had gathered around the car and insisted on shaking hands with Mr. Bryan.

Detective C. H. Kettles of Cleveland was in charge of the train and acted as Mr. Bryan's bodyguard. At every village through which the train passed, hundreds were gathered at the depot in order to catch a glance of the nominee as he passed through. There were but a few stops made and at these places Mr. Bryan shook hands with those around him. He spoke a few words to the crowd at Grafton, Crestline, Shelby and Delaware and at each of these places was cheered and applauded. He arrived in Columbus nearly an hour late.

Killed His Neighbor.

HUNTINGTON, W. Va., Sept. 2.—As Isaac Dally, a farmer living near here, was leading a horse from pasture, Ed Milrans, a quarrel they had engaged in a few days ago. Suddenly Milrans shot Dally through the breast, making a wound that caused death in two hours. Milrans mounted daily's horse and escaped.

SPOKE TO EDITORS.

West Virginians Visited Major McKinley at Canton.

VAST RESOURCES AND INDUSTRIES

At the Mountain State Pointed Out and Their Development Declared to Depend on the Success of Republican Principles—Points of the Speech.

CANTON, O., Sept. 2.—The mountain-er editors of West Virginia have good healthy lungs. When the party of 86 called on Major McKinley several hundred people joined in the gathering. The delegation applauded nearly every sentence Major McKinley spoke. The presentation of the Republican Press association of West Virginia, by Mr. P. W. Morris was witty and entertaining. Mr. McKinley in his reply said:

It affords me sincere pleasure to give you welcome to my state, my city and my home. From no quarter could visitors be more welcome, nor from any body of men than the representatives of the Republican press of West Virginia, from a state in which I am intensely interested as a citizen and a Republican, and because I believe that upon the success of Republican principles her advancement and welfare largely depends. [Applause.]

The cause in which you are engaged this year is one commanding both conscience and interest. The Republican cause was never more just and righteous than this year and the triumph of its principles was never more essential to the general welfare of the American people than now. We have had great political contests in the past, but I doubt if any was ever waged which involved higher interests to the people, and to the country at large than those presented in this campaign. [Applause and cries of "that's right."] Nothing is more vital to the standing and progress of a country than the preservation of its credit and financial honor. [Applause and cries of "that's right too."] Nothing is more indispensable to business and prosperity than that the currency of the country shall be so honest that it can cheat nobody. [Great cheering.] Nothing is of greater moment to the welfare of the country than the adoption of a policy which will give labor and capital constant employment and fair returns. [Applause and cries of "good!"]

But, gentlemen, lying beneath all these and more important than all these is the preservation of law and order—the reign of domestic quiet. [Cheers.] All those anxious about the future of the nation are upon us this year. In connection with these questions, as editors and publishers, you have the gravest responsibilities. You help to make public sentiment, and a right public sentiment is what is most needed at this juncture of our national affairs. Never was the press of the country more aroused to these issues than now. Never did the Republican cause have such mighty support from the newspapers of the United States, as it has today. This help is not confined to the Republican press alone, but includes many of the greatest newspapers which have hitherto advocated the Democratic cause. [Great applause.] All this is an evidence that the people appreciate that a great crisis is upon them, and that the way to avoid that crisis is for patriotic men of every section of the country to unite and act together in the common cause of country. [Great applause.]

It is the selfish concern, therefore, that prompts me to express the hope that West Virginia may become permanently a Republican state. [Cheers.] There is, in my judgment, no state whose prosperity will go Republican this fall all right. [Applause.] And that what she gained so gloriously in 1894 will not be lost in 1896. [Great applause.] The Republican party aims higher than this—it is not merely the success of individuals or party, but the good of the country it seeks; and it is in that spirit, animated only by patriotic sentiment, that I wish always to constantly speak and act. [Applause.] There is, in my judgment, no state whose prosperity is linked more closely to Republican policies than West Virginia. You have extensive river commerce, both on the Ohio and the Kanawha; and this is never so prosperous and active as when your great steel and iron interests, your mines, your mills, your factories are busily employed. [Cries of "that's right!"]

Your railroads, reaching now more than 2,000 miles, with their employees, are all better off when every field of industry is employed. Every railroad employe, from trackman to manager, appreciates this as he never appreciated it before.

Then have you considered that perhaps no other equal territory, no other 35,000 square miles of the United States, might or should contain so many interests whose development, growth and progress are so dependent upon the maintenance of our Republican doctrine of protection. [Great applause.]

Major McKinley then enumerated the great resources and industries of West Virginia. Then he said:

How much the several industries have suffered in the last three years, you know better than I can tell you. How much the woolgrowers have lost, that who have sheep and raise wool, know accurately. They know what the experience of the last three years has cost this state.

All your interests are directly affected; all are benefited or injured by our industrial legislation. You know and the people know that every one of them were advanced by Republican policies (applause), and that all of them have been more or less injured by Democratic legislation. [Great applause and cries of "You are right!"]

Under the beneficent operations of Republican industrial policies, your state has in a brief period practically doubled its population and quadrupled its wealth and if you continue to advance in the next 20 years, as you advanced from 1870 to 1890, you can only hope to do it under a system which encourages home industry and gives steady employment to willing hands at remunerative wages. [Tremendous cheering and cries of "Hurrah for McKinley!"]

Restore the principle in our legislation which gave us prosperity. [Cries of "that's right!"] Keep the credit of the government untarnished above all else. [Applause.] Keep the currency up to the highest standard of civilized nations. [Renewed applause.] No nations of the world must have better money than we have, and no nation of the world has better money than we have. [Great cheering.] And it is no reflection, either upon our honor or independence, that we refuse to adopt the financial policy of China and Mexico. [Renewed cheering.] Let us have neither free trade nor free silver. [Cries of "we won't!"] Work and wages have been cut in two and we spun the same experiment on the money in which they are paid. [Loud applause and cries of "Hurrah for McKinley!"] We want the same money in the future that we have had since Jan. 1, 1873, and that we intend to have. [Cries of "that's right!"] We want honest dollars. Our great need now is a chance to earn these honest dollars by honest work at home and let us do our work in the United States, and then there will not be an idle man beneath our flag. [Continued applause and cries of "Hurrah for McKinley!"]

YEARLY MEETING OF FRIENDS.

The Subject of Missions Consumed Much Time of the Delegates.

DAMASCUS, O., Sept. 2.—At the Friends' yearly meeting a children's meeting was addressed by Miss Carrie Bates, missionary in India under the Christian alliance, and Dr. Lucy A. Gayner, medical missionary in the Friends' mission at Nanking, China.

At the regular session the needs of the educational institutions of the church were presented in stirring addresses by E. M. Day and W. O. Beale, principals from Damascus academy and Raisin Valley seminary, respectively. A subscription was raised to aid in making the primary departments in these schools free. Reports were received from the Woman's Foreign Missionary society having control of the missions in China and India.

The society has thoroughly organized the yearly meeting into auxiliaries, and the plan of systematic giving has been generally adopted. In the support of three lady missionaries in India and four in China about $5,000 is annually expended. Full written reports from the ladies were read at this meeting, and in addition a verbal report of the work in China was given by Dr. Gayner. A subscription of $1,500 was taken.

The act was committed in a room over the Levee and Cleveland Navigation company's offices at the foot of Superior street. The motive for the deed is not known.

HAPPENED IN THIS STATE.

Joseph Cimarella was shot and killed by an unknown assassin at Ashtabula. Republicans of the Fourth district nominated for congress Rev. J. P. McLean of Darke county.

John Konseluri fell at Ashtabula piercing his head on a sharp piece of iron and died in three minutes.

Emma Perdue, living near Gallipolis, was burned to death by her dress catching fire while she was stirring peach butter.

The court has set aside the assignment of the Brilliant iron company and appointed Henry M. Priest of Steubenville, receiver.

The heirs of Margaret Francis, an aged lady, who died in 1895 at Mt. Pleasant, have begun proceedings in court at Steubenville to contest her will. She left legacies to the Mt. Pleasant Presbyterian church, the Pleasant Fork U. P. church and the board of home missions of the U. P. church.

THEIR CONVENTION OPENED TODAY

It Was Called to Order by Senator Palmer—Flower Made Temporary Chairman—Florida Delegation Trying to Boom Cleveland For First Place.

INDIANAPOLIS, Sept. 2.—Senator John M. Palmer of Illinois, chairman of the provisional committee appointed at Chicago five weeks ago, called the convention of gold Democrats to order at noon today in Tomlinson hall. Over 300 delegates are present, representing 41 or 42 states and territories.

The convention was opened with prayer by Rev. John White, the Episcopal bishop of the diocese of Indianapolis. Ex-Governor Flower, the temporary chairman, delivered the opening speech. After the announcement of the committee selections there was a recess to give the committee time to credentials and permanent organization time to meet and report. There is only one contest—from Connecticut—where there are opposing delegations. But the settlement of this contest case, it is thought, can be easily reached, and Senator Caffrey of Louisiana has already been decided on for permanent chairman. After Senator Caffrey has been installed the convention will adjourn until Thursday, when the platform will be adopted and the credentials expected tomorrow evening.

The suggestion of Waterson for president, which has seemed to be in his favor, seems to have gained no ground. The Kentucky delegation is pledged to Buckner for vice president, and the sentiment seems to be drifting back to the original ticket suggested at the Chicago—Bragg and Buckner.

The Florida delegation has shaken hands across the continent with favor in Washington in the person of Hugh Wallace, who launched the Cleveland boom, but the president's friends in the intervening states set their faces strongly against all such suggestions. Other names put forward are Secretary J. Sterling Morton, Secretary Carlisle, General John C. Black of Illinois, Senator Vilas, Senator Palmer, ex-Congressman Outwater and there is still some talk of Senator Gray of Delaware.

Despite his firm refusal, General Tracy of New York, Senator Gray, Controller Echols and some others cling to the suggestion of Vilas, but the Wisconsin senator insists that the Badger state is for Bragg and that he does not desire the honor. The Illinois delegates say that the nomination of General Black would interfere with their local canvass, as they have nominated General Black for governor. David Lawler of Minnesota is for Secretary Carlisle. The Kentuckian's name is received with favor, but there is an undercurrent of opinion that the nomination of anyone connected with the administration would be unwise. The eastern delegates, as a rule, are taking no hand in the selection of the candidates. They say they are willing to let the prevailing sentiment in the central, middle, western and border states, where the main battleground is, govern in this matter.

Aside from the general question as to how far the platform should go beyond a renunciation of the Chicago platform and a strong financial declaration a contest is likely to be precipitated over the question of incorporating in it an endorsement of the principle of an income tax and a declaration in favor of the retirement of the greenbacks coupled with the establishment of a new federal banking system. There has been considerable discussion also as to the form of the financial declaration, the divergence of opinion being to whether the plank should declare for the gold standard with or without a declaration for the bimetallic standard by international agreement. The money planks of most of the gold Democratic conventions are being examined closely with a view to reaching a consensus of opinion. The demand for a single declaration for the maintenance of the gold standard comes principally from the east, but has strong supporters like Senator Vilas in the west.

THE VERMONT ELECTION.

Republican State Ticket Won by 30,000 Majority.

WHITE RIVER JUNCTION, Vt., Sept. 2.—Josiah Grover for governor and the Republican state ticket are probably elected by 30,000 majority, the largest ever given a governor in this state.

H. Henry Powers and William M. Grout for congress are elected as are majorities in the state senate and house. Practically the full Republican vote was cast. On the other hand the lack of organization in the Democratic ranks was very apparent.

Many Democrats who do not endorse the platform of the Chicago convention remained away from the polls while the more dissatisfied ones voted for the Republican ticket. The Populist and Prohibition vote was practically the same as four years ago.

COAL INDUSTRY THREATENED.

A Chinese Article of Fine Quality Invades the Country.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 2.—China has thrown the gauntlet to the big coal miners of the United States. The American bark Colorado, which has just arrived in port, brought a mixed sample cargo of anthracite and manufactured coal, mined and made in the Tonquin district. It was consigned to a coal dealing firm of this city, which promises to push the Chinese fuel on the coast market at prices greatly below those which Pennsylvania and Welsh coals of the same character are now bringing. Examining experts have pronounced the Tonquin coal beds almost inexhaustible. The Chinese article is in the market to stay, it is said at least as long as the present tariff conditions exist.

Tonquin, since the Tonquin war, has been under the control of the French, and it is French capital that is now developing the mines, but the land is still populated by Chinese as before, and it is the cheap Chinese labor that is employed in the mines; hence the extremely low cost of production, which enables the French owners of the Tonquin mines to undersell the coal producers of other countries, where labor is better paid. The coal from the Orient is said to be of the finest quality, fully equal to the best Pennsylvania or Welsh coal.

THE PUBLIC DEBT.

Monthly Statement Issued by the National Treasury Department.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2.—The monthly statement of the public debt issued from the treasury department shows that the public debt, less cash in the treasury is $978,497,190, which is an increase for the month of $12,342,684, which is accounted for by the loss of nearly exactly that amount of cash on hand due, to the excess of expenditures over receipts. The debt is recapitulated as follows:

Interest bearing debt, $847,364,260; interest on which interest has ceased since maturity, $1,622,960; debt bearing no interest, $572,856,376. This amount, however, does not include $563,656,973 in certificates and treasury notes outstanding and offset by an equal amount of cash in the treasury. The cash in the treasury is classified as follows:

Gold, $139,525,200; silver, $513,647,700; paper, $177,923,568; bonds, disbursing officers' balances, etc., $1,992,276, making a total of $849,388,746, against which there are demand liabilities amounting to $606,042,345, which leaves $243,346,400 cash in the treasury. The interest bearing debt of the government is shown by the statement to have been: $1,182,149,050 on March 1, 1895; $844,106,220 on March 1, 1896; $585,034,260 on March 1, 1896, and $847,364,260 on Aug. 31, 1896.

BUFFALO IN THE LEAD.

Likely to Get Next G. A. R. Encampment Naval Veterans' Parade.

ST. PAUL, Sept. 2.—Buffalo is in the lead for the G. A. R. encampment of 1897 and is likely to capture it. Denver is the other aspirant.

The parade of the naval veterans, the ex-prisoners of war and the Sons of Veterans, all escorted by the Third Regiment of regulars from Fort Snelling, was a short one, but novel in some of the features introduced by the naval veterans and a decidedly popular one, although generally considered as simply a foretaste to the big parade of today. The streets were lined with people, who gave hearty greeting to the marching old soldiers and cheered their sons and their army successors, the character of the parade allowing a comparison not at any other time possible.

Last night the grand reception of the ladies in honor of Commander-in-Chief Walker were given along Summit avenue.

Desperate Battle Due to Liquor.

SERGEANT, Ky., Sept. 2.—Reliable information has just been received here from a remote section in Magoffin county, west of Salliesville, of a terrible hand-to-hand battle between two desperate factions, in which four men were killed outright and two others seriously, if not fatally, wounded. It is said to be the result of a "mountain dew" spree and a game of cards on the roadside.

Shot Down In the Street.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Sept. 3.—James Henry has been shot and instantly killed by Gaylord Yancy, on Capital street, in the heart of the city. Yancy accused Henry of having struck a woman relative of his.

Cornelius Vanderbilt Worse.

NEWPORT, Sept. 2.—Cornelius Vanderbilt, although seeming to mend slowly, is in a precarious condition. His physicians declare that he should not be removed from Newport.

An increased majority in Vermont shows the world how New England observes the silver fallacy.

CANDIDATE BRYAN was as good an attraction in Columbus last night as the big potatoes and other exhibits at the state fair.

That sensible convention in Indianapolis seems to be surprising those Democrats who believed Candidate Bryan owned the earth and a liberal section of the firmament.

MR. CARLISLE declares that President Cleveland will support the ticket nominated at Indianapolis, and he is the boy who usually does Grover's talking when the big fellow is busy fishing.

No potter, whether he be operative or manufacturer, should vote for Bryan, an individual who can not understand why a skilled mechanic should make good wages when western farmers can not get rich from the products of their farms.

ELECT REPUBLICAN CONGRESSMEN.

The friends of honest money should not forget the responsibility resting upon the national house of representatives in the next congress. It matters not what the result of the presidential election will be, the balance of power lies in the house. If Mr. Bryan should succeed in winning a sufficient number of votes to give him the victory he can do nothing if a majority of representatives are honest money men. He will have a millstone about his neck, his hands will be tied, and his boasted promise of free silver will amount to no more than the effort responsible for its utterance. This district will have a fusion candidate, and he will be for free silver. Some leaders will oppose the movement, but their influence will amount to almost nothing against the crowd who have come out for fiat money. There are many candidates for the place, and the indications point to the nomination of a free silverite. He will oppose Hon. R. W. Taylor, the gentleman who so ably represents the district. Mr. Taylor has the right sort of views. He is a protectionist and a sound money man, and no better recommendation can be asked. He represents the common sense of statesmanship, and should have the vote of every man, regardless of partisan view, who desires to see the country prosper and wax strong during the next administration.

A TOUR THROUGH OHIO

Bryan Spoke at Springfield and Other Points Today.

LARGE MEETING AT COLUMBUS.

The Democratic Candidate Spoke From Four Sides of a Platform to Fully Thirty Thousand People—Will Speak at Toledo Tonight.

KENTON, O., Sept. 2.—Mr. and Mrs. Bryan arrived at Springfield from Columbus at 8:45 this morning. Mr. Bryan made an address and at 11 o'clock left for this place, making speeches at Urbana and Bellefontaine enroute. The party remained here an hour and a half, the candidate speaking to a big crowd, and then left for Toledo at 2 o'clock by way of Findlay and Bowling Green. The train will reach Toledo at 8:30, where Mr. Bryan will speak tonight.

Mr. Bryan's meeting at Columbus was a bigger demonstration, in comparison to the sizes of the two places, than the one at Cleveland. He spoke from a platform facing the eastern front of the capitol building.

About the four sides were swarming men, women and children, a large part of the city's population, reinforced by visitors to the state fair now in progress. There were fully 30,000 in the crowd.

On account of the size of his audience Mr. Bryan adopted a novel method of speaking, talking to sections of the crowd alternately from each of the four sides of the platform, even then not more than a tenth of the people could hear him. He was introduced by Hon. Allen W. Thurman, son of the "Old Roman," who has been fighting for free silver in Ohio for several years, and after the candidate's speech the Democratic nominee for congress in the Columbus district, Hon. J. Lentz, addressed the remains of the crowd.

As Mr. Bryan practically made four speeches, speaking to one side at a time, we give as near as we can the four speeches as a whole. He said:

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN—This is the largest audience to which I ever tried to speak. I have had occasion to talk where the audience filled the house, but I never had occasion to talk where the audience filled all outdoors. If you all vote as you are now shouting I don't see how there can be any question about the triumph of free silver in the state of Ohio.

I desire to impress upon you the fact that the enemy we are fighting in this campaign is an enemy which has never gone into an open battle. The advocates of the gold standard have never dared to submit the gold standard to the arbitration of a ballot. Every step that has been taken has been taken by stealth and without the approval of the American people. When silver was demonetized in 1873 the people had not discussed it and persons who were members of congress and who voted upon the measure testified that they did not understand that the bill was so far as declared that its repeal, being afraid of the passage of a free coinage bill, secured another compromise, which was known as the Sherman law.

In the support of that measure Senator Sherman made a speech, and in the course of that speech he went on to say that we required more than $2,000,000 new money every year to keep pace with the population and industries, and he advocated that measure on the ground that it gave to the people more money, and that it was a relief, published only a few months ago, you will find that Senator Sherman there says that he was in favor of the Sherman law simply to prevent free coinage, and that year the opponents of free coinage, being afraid of the passage of a free coinage bill, secured another compromise, which was known as the Sherman law.

They secured the repeal of the Sherman law and they pretended that when they got that out of the way that they would restore silver to its former place. There were some law makers who said that the trend of the Sherman law was to that end and that we had to clear away the rubbish before we could build up a good system; and there were others who said that if we stood by free silver we would drive Europe to bimetallicism, but those who made this arrangement have proven that they were not sincere and that their purpose was to deceive the American people. [Applause.]

In this campaign every party, in its platform so far as declared that the principle of bimetallicism is better than a gold standard, and yet in spite of these declarations you know that there is a body of people in the United States, who under cover of friendliness to bimetallicism, are seeking to fasten a gold standard upon the American people.

Let us suppose that you had free and unlimited coinage of gold and silver at the present legal ratio of 16 to 1. Then what? Why, any person in the world owning silver bullion could bring that bullion to our mints and have it converted into full legal tender silver dollars, just like the ones that you use today. Now, how could you be injured? Suppose some man made up his mind to injure the American people under free coinage. How would he do it? Why, he would take his silver to our mint. Suppose a thousand dollars of it, and have it coined into dollars; then he would take these dollars out to hurt the American people with them, and how would he do it? He would take that money home and he would be required to pay the freight on it, and he would lose the cost of coinage and lose the freight both ways, and we could stand it longer than he could.

Ah, you say that he would trade that silver for gold and take the gold away and leave the silver. Where would he get the gold? Would he get it at the treasury of the United States? Not under bimetallicism, because under bimetallicism the government does not agree to swap, but under bimetallicism the government converts the silver bullion into silver money and gold bullion into gold coin and makes them legal tender for all debts, public and private. But it does not agree to redeem a gold dollar in silver or a silver dollar in gold. [Applause.] So that under bimetallicism this foreigner could not exchange his silver at the mint for gold unless the government was disposed to let him do it. Where would he get the gold? He would have to find somebody with the gold; he could not hurt anybody by trading silver for gold until he found somebody who had the gold, and that would let most of the people of the United States out of danger.

There is another way that he might do. He might, instead of taking the silver some, instead of giving it to us, instead of trading it to us for gold, he might trade it to us for property. Whenever we have anything to sell, we are looking for a man who has the money for what we have to sell, and instead of being frightened, if he will just let us know when he is coming with his silver, to exchange for our products, we will meet him at the depot with a brass band and escort him through the town and show him where the property is that he can buy.

There was another demonstration paid the Bryan party when they left Cleveland for Columbus. About the hotel and depot large crowds had gathered in order to catch a parting glance of the nominee. The Columbus reception committee arrived in this city and took charge of the party. A special car had been provided and it was decorated inside and out with bunting. The train was delayed an hour, mainly on account of the crowds, which had gathered around the car and insisted on shaking hands with Mr. Bryan.

Detective C. H. Kettles of Cleveland was in charge of the train and acted as Mr. Bryan's bodyguard. At every village through which the train passed, hundreds were gathered at the depot in order to catch a glance of the nominee as he passed through. There were but a few stops made, and at these places Mr. Bryan shook hands with those assembled. He spoke a few words to the crowd at Grafton, Crestline, Shelby and Delaware and at each of these places was cheered and applauded. He arrived in Columbus nearly an hour late.

SPOKE TO EDITORS.

West Virginians Visited Major McKinley at Canton.

VAST RESOURCES AND INDUSTRIES

At the Mountain State Pointed Out and Their Development Declared to Depend on the Success of Republican Principles—Points of the Speech.

CANTON, O., Sept. 2.—The mountain-ear editors of West Virginia have good healthy lungs. When the party of 86 called on Major McKinley several hundred people joined in the gathering. The delegation applauded nearly every sentence Major McKinley spoke. The presentation of the Republican Press association of West Virginia, by Mr. P. W. Morris was witty and entertaining. Mr. McKinley in his reply said:

It affords me sincere pleasure to give you welcome to my state, my city and my home. From no quarter could visitors be more welcome, nor from any body of men than the representatives of the Republican press of West Virginia, from a state in which I am intensely interested as a citizen and a Republican, and because I believe that upon the success of Republican principles their advancement and welfare largely depends. [Applause.]

The cause in which you are engaged this year is one commanding both conscience and interest. The Republican cause was never more just and righteous than this year and the triumph of its principles was never more essential to the general welfare of the American people than now. We have had great political contests in the past, but I doubt if any was ever waged which involved higher interests to the people, and to the country at large than those presented in this campaign. [Applause and cries of "that's right."] Nothing is more vital to the standing and progress of a country than the preservation of its credit and financial honor. [Applause and cries of "that's right too."] Nothing is more indispensable to business and prosperity than that the currency of the country shall be so honest that it can cheat nobody. [Great cheering.] Nothing is of greater moment to the welfare of the country than the adoption of a policy which will give labor and capital constant employment with fair returns. [Applause and cries of "good."]

But, gentlemen, lying beneath all these and more important than all these is the preservation of law and order—the reign of domestic quiet. [Cheers.] All those who are engaged in the contentions which lie upon us this year, in connection with these questions, as editors and publishers, you have the gravest responsibilities. You help to make public sentiment, and a right public sentiment is what is most needed at this juncture of our national affairs. Never was the press of the country more aroused to these issues than now. Never did the Republican cause have such mighty support from the newspapers of the United States, as it has today. This help is not confined to the Republican press alone, but includes many of the greatest newspapers which have hitherto advocated the Democratic cause. [Great applause.] All this is an evidence that the people appreciate that a great crisis is upon them, and that the way to avoid that crisis is for patriotic men of every section of the country to unite and act together in the common cause of country. [Great Applause.]

It is the selfish concern, therefore, that prompts me to express the hope that West Virginia may become permanently a Republican state. [Cheers and cries of "It will go Republican this fall all right."] and that what she gained so gloriously in 1864 will not be lost in 1896. [Great applause.] The Republican party aims higher than that—it is not merely the success of individuals or party, but the good of the country it seeks; and it is in that spirit, animated only by patriotic sentiment, that I wish always to constantly speak and act. [Applause.] There is, in my judgment, no state whose prosperity is linked more closely to Republican policies than West Virginia. You have extensive river commerce, both on the Ohio and the Kanawha, and this is never so prosperous and active as when your great steel and iron interests, your mines, your mills, your factories are busily employed. [Cries of "that's right."]

Your railroads reaching now more than 3,000 miles, with their employees, are all better off when every field of industry is employed. Every railroad employee, from trackman to manager, appreciates this as he never appreciated it before. Then have you considered that perhaps no other equal territory, no other 20,000 square miles of the United States, might or should contain so many interests whose development, growth and progress are so dependent upon the maintenance of our great Republican doctrine of protection. [Great applause.]

Major McKinley then enumerated the great resources and industries of West Virginia. Then he said:

How much the several industries have suffered in the last three years, you know better than I can tell you. How much the woolgrowers have lost, those who have sheep and raise wool, know accurately. They know what the experience of the last three years has cost this state.

All your interests are directly affected; all are benefited or injured by our industrial legislation. You know and the people know that every one of them were advanced by Republican policies (applause), and that all of them have been more or less injured by Democratic legislation. [Great applause and cries of "You are right."]

Under the beneficent operations of Republican industrial policy your state has in a brief period practically doubled its population and quadrupled its wealth and if you continue to advance in the next 20 years, you can advance from 1870 to 1890, you can only hope to do it under a system which encourages home industry and gives steady employment to willing hands at remunerative wages. [Tremendous cheering and cries of: "Hurrah for McKinley."]

Restore the principle in our legislation which gave us prosperity. [Cries of "that's right."] Keep the credit of the government untarnished above all else. [Applause.] Keep the currency upon a high standard of civilized nations. [Renewed applause.] No nations of the world must have better money than we have, and no nation of the world has better money than we have. [Great cheering.] And it is no reflection, either upon our honor or independence, that we refuse to adopt the financial policy of China and Mexico. [Renewed cheering.] Let us have neither free trade nor free silver. [Cries of "we won't."]

Work and wages have been cut in two and we spun the same experiment on the money in which they are paid. [Loud applause and cries of "Hurrah for McKinley." We want the same money in the future that we have had since Jan. 1, 1879, and that we intend to have. [Cries of "that's right." We want honest dollars. Our great need now is a chance to earn these honest dollars by honest work at home and let us do our work in the United States, and then there will not be an idle man beneath our flag. [Continued applause and cries of "Hurrah for McKinley."]

YEARLY MEETING OF FRIENDS.

The Subject of Missions Consumed Much Time of the Delegates.

DAMASCUS, O., Sept. 2.—At the Friends' yearly meeting a children's meeting was addressed by Miss Carrie Bates, missionary in India under the Christian alliance, and Dr. Lucy A. Gayner, medical missionary in the Friends' mission at Nanking, China.

At the regular session the needs of the educational institutions of the church were presented in stirring addresses by E. M. Day and W. O. Beale, principals from Damascus, respectively. A subscription was raised to aid in making the primary departments in these schools free. Reports were received from the Woman's Foreign Missionary society having control of the missions in China and India.

The society has thoroughly organized the yearly meeting into auxiliaries, and the plan of systematic giving has been generally adopted. In the support of three lady missionaries in India and four in China about $5,000 is annually expended. Full written reports from these ladies were read at this meeting, and in addition a verbal report of the work in China was given by Dr. Gayner. A subscription of $1,500 was taken.

Prominent Young Man Succeeded.

CLEVELAND, Sept. 2.—Alexander R. McIntyre, 20 years old, son of D. C. McIntyre, general manager of the Detroit and Cleveland Navigation company, has committed suicide. The weapon used was a shotgun. The act was committed in a room over the Levee and Cleveland Navigation company's offices at the foot of Superior street. The motive for the deed is not known.

HAPPENED IN THIS STATE.

Joseph Cimarella was shot and killed by an unknown assassin at Ashtabula. Republicans of the Fourth district nominated for congress Rev. J. P. McLean of Darke county.

John Koneituri fell at Ashtabula, piercing his head on a sharp piece of iron and died in three minutes.

Emma Perdue, living near Gallipolis, was burned to death by her dress catching fire while she was stirring peach butter.

The court has set aside the assignment of the Brilliant Iron company and appointed Henry M. Priest of Steubenville, receiver.

The heirs of Margaret Francis, an aged lady, who died in 1895 at Mt. Pleasant, have begun proceedings in court at Steubenville to contest her will. She left legacies to the Mt. Pleasant Presbyterian church, the Piney Fork U. P. church and the board of home missions of the U. P. church.

Secretary Smith Retires.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2.—Secretary Hoke Smith has closed his administration of the affairs of the interior department and retired from the cabinet. When ex-Governor Francis will arrive from Missouri and take the oath of office is not yet definitely known, though it will be before the end of the week.

Anti-Saloon League Branch.

PARKERSBURG, W. Va., Sept. 2.—The work of organizing a state branch of the National Anti-Saloon league has been accomplished here in the Methodist Episcopal Church South. Bishop Fitzgerald of Tennessee addressed the delegates.

Editor Warburton Dead.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 2.—Charles E. Warburton, proprietor of the Evening Telegraph of this city, has been found dead in bed at the Garden hotel, Atlantic City. He was 60 years of age.

BRAGG AND BUCKNER.

Probable Nominees of the Gold Democrats.

THEIR CONVENTION OPENED TODAY

It Was Called to Order by Senator Palmer—Flower Made Temporary Chairman—Florida Delegation Trying to Boom Cleveland For First Place.

INDIANAPOLIS, Sept. 2.—Senator John M. Palmer of Illinois, chairman of the provisional committee appointed at Chicago five weeks ago, called the convention of gold Democrats to order at noon today in Tomlinson hall. Over 300 delegates are present, representing 41 or 42 states and territories.

The convention was opened with prayer by Rev. John White, the Episcopal bishop of the diocese of Indianapolis. Ex-Governor Flower, the temporary chairman, delivered the opening speech. After the announcement of the committee's selections there was a recess to give the committee on credentials and permanent organization time to meet and report. There is only one contest—from Connecticut—where there are opposing delegations. But the settlement of this contest case, it is thought, can be easily reached, and Senator Caffrey of Louisiana has already been decided on for permanent chairman. After Senator Caffrey has been installed the convention will adjourn until Thursday, when the platform will be adopted and the candidates named. A sine die adjournment is expected tomorrow evening.

The suggestion of Waterson for president, which has seemed to be in his favor, seems to have gained no ground. The Kentucky delegation is pledged to Buckner for vice president, and the sentiment seems to be drifting back to the original ticket suggested at the Chicago—Bragg and Buckner.

The Florida delegation has shaken hands across the continent with Garoff Washington in the person of Hugh Wallace, who launched the Cleveland boom, but the president's friends in the intervening states set their faces strongly against all such suggestions. Other names put forward are Secretary J. Sterling Morton, Secretary Carlisle, General John C. Black of Illinois, Senator Vilas, Senator Palmer, ex-Congressman Outwater and there is still some talk of Senator Gray of Delaware.

Despite his firm refusal, General Tracy of New York, Senator Gray, Controller Echols and some others cling to the suggestion of Vilas, but the Wisconsin senator insists that the Badger state is for Bragg and that he does not desire the honor. The Illinois delegates say that the nomination of General Black would interfere with their local canvass, as they have nominated General Black for governor. David Lawler of Minnesota is for Secretary Carlisle. The Kentuckian's name is received with favor, but there is an undercurrent of opinion that the nomination of anyone connected with the administration would be unwise. The eastern delegates, as a rule, are taking no hand in the selection of the candidates. They say they are willing to let the prevailing sentiment in the central, middle, western and border states, where the main battleground is, govern in this matter.

Aside from the general question as to how far the platform should go beyond a renunciation of the Chicago platform and a strong financial declaration a contest is likely to be precipitated over the question of incorporating in it an endorsement of the principle of an income tax and a declaration in favor of the retirement of the greenbacks coupled with the establishment of a new federal banking system. There has been considerable discussion also as to the form of the financial declaration, the divergence of opinion being as to whether the plank should declare for the gold standard with or without a declaration for the bimetallic standard by international agreement. The money planks of most of the gold Democratic conventions are being examined closely with a view to reaching a consensus of opinion. The demand for a single declaration for the maintenance of the gold standard comes principally from the east, but has strong supporters like Senator Vilas in the west.

THE VERMONT ELECTION.

Republican State Ticket Won by 30,000 Majority.

WHITE RIVER JUNCTION, Vt., Sept. 2.—Josiah Grout for governor and the Republican state ticket are probably elected by 30,000 majority, the largest ever given a governor in this state.

H. Henry Powers and William M. Grout for congress are elected as are majorities in the state senate and house.

Practically the full Republican vote was cast. On the other hand the lack of organization in the Democratic ranks was very apparent.

Many Democrats who do not endorse the platform of the Chicago convention remained away from the polls while the more dissatisfied ones voted for the Republican ticket.

The Populist and Prohibition vote was practically the same as four years ago.

COAL INDUSTRY THREATENED.

A Chinese Article of Fine Quality Invades the Country.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 2.—China has thrown the gauntlet to the big coal miners of the United States. The American bark Colorado, which has just arrived in port, brought a mixed sample cargo of anthracite and manufactured coal, mined and made in the Tonquin district. It was consigned to a coal dealing firm of this city, which promises to push the Chinese fuel on the coast market at prices greatly below those which Pennsylvania and Welsh coals of the same character are now bringing. Examining experts have pronounced the Tonquin coal beds most inexhaustible. The Chinese article is in the market to stay, it is said, at least as long as the present tariff conditions exist.

Tonquin, since the Tonquin war, has been under the control of the French, and it is French capital that is now developing the mines, but the land is still populated by Chinese as before, and it is the cheap Chinese labor that is employed in the mines; hence the extremely low cost of production, which enables the French owners of the Tonquin mines to undersell the coal producers of other countries where labor is better paid. The coal from the Tonquin is said to be of the finest quality, fair equal to the best Pennsylvania or Welsh coal.

THE PUBLIC DEBT.

Monthly Statement Issued by the National Treasury Department.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2.—The monthly statement of the public debt issued from the treasury department shows that the public debt, less cash in the treasury is $78,497,196, which is an increase for the month of $12,342,684, which is accounted for by the loss of nearly exactly that amount of cash on hand due to the excess of expenditures over receipts. The debt is recapitulated as follows:

Interest bearing debt, $847,364,269; interest on which interest has ceased since maturity, $1,622,960; debt bearing no interest, $372,856,376. This amount, however, does not include $563,656,973 in certificates and treasury notes outstanding and offset by an equal amount of cash in the treasury. The cash in the treasury is classified as follows: Gold, $139,825,200; silver, $13,647,700; paper, $177,923,568; bonds, disbursing officers' balances, etc., $17,992,276, making a total of $849,388,746, against which there are demand liabilities amounting to $606,042,345, which leaves $243,346,400 cash in the treasury. The interest bearing debt of the government is shown by the statement to have been: $1,182,149,650 on March 1, 1885; $844,106,220 on March 1, 1889; $585,034,260 on March 1, 1893; and $547,564,260 on Aug. 31, 1896.

BUFFALO IN THE LEAD.

Likely to Get Next G. A. R. Encampment Naval Veterans' Parade.

ST. PAUL, Sept. 2.—Buffalo is in the lead for the G. A. R. encampment of 1897 and is likely to capture it. Denver is the other aspirant.

The parade of the naval veterans, the ex-prisoners of war and the Sons of Veterans, all escorted by the Third Regiment of regulars from Fort Snelling, was a short one, but novel in some of the features introduced by the naval veterans and a decidedly popular one, although generally considered as simply a foretaste to the big parade of today. The streets were lined with people, who gave hearty greeting to the marching old soldiers and cheered their sons and their army successors, the character of the parade allowing a comparison not at any other time possible.

Last night the grand reception of the ladies in honor of Commander-in-Chief Walker were given along Summit avenue.

Desperate Battle Due to Liquor.

SERGEANT, Ky., Sept. 2.—Reliable information has just been received here from a remote section in Magoffin county, west of Salliersville, of a terrible hand-to-hand battle between two desperate factions, in which four men were killed outright and two others seriously, if not fatally, wounded. It is said to be the result of a "mountain dew" spree and a game of cards on the roadside.

Shot Down in the Street.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Sept. 2.—James Henry has been shot and instantly killed by Gaylord Yancy, on Capital street, in the heart of the city. Yancy accused Henry of having struck a woman relative of his.

Cornelius Vanderbilt Wore.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

Trades council will meet in regular session this evening.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Brownfield, Minerva street, a daughter.

Miss Grace Park, of Wellsville, is entertaining friends today at Columbian park.

Nancy Hanks was out last night repairing a break in the trolley wire at Brady's cut.

The title stone of the German Lutheran church was placed in position this morning.

The reception given at Bradshaw hall last night was not largely attended, but a pleasant time was had by all.

The concert given at the First United Presbyterian church last evening was not largely attended, but was first class in every respect.

Will Till, well known here, is very low at his home on the road to the campground. He is suffering with an abscess on his left lung.

A well known business man wagered a new hat with a political opponent the other day that McKinley would carry 13 states east of the Mississippi.

The foundation of the W. L. Thompson building to be erected across the river has been finished, and the brick work will be commenced at once.

City Treasurer Herbert will make his periodical visit to the county seat tomorrow in order to square accounts with the auditor as regards school funds.

Work of widening the Wellsville road at the Brady cut is being pushed forward as fast as possible, and when finished the thoroughfare will be in better condition than ever before.

Engineer Kelly and his force yesterday evening completed the task of taking levels on the route to be covered by the electric line. Grading will be commenced as soon as possible.

The Turners will give a calisthenic exhibition at Columbian park on Labor day. Will Liebschner will have charge of the class on this occasion, because of the absence of Director Hertel.

A peach tree caused an awful row in McKinnon addition last evening. Two women, well known in that part of the city, wanted the fruit, and each was opposed to the other. Neighbors enjoyed the scene.

Professor Davis, who is here in the interest of a Chicago educational system, spoke to the Sunday school teachers at the First M. E. church last evening, and will talk at the First Presbyterian church tonight.

Commissioner Finley placed an additional team at the West End culvert today to assist in hauling dirt. Almost an endless amount of work remains to be done in the city by the commissioner and his force.

Wheelmen complain that on many of the paved streets are brick and large stones that make riding uncomfortable as well as dangerous. These obstructions should be removed before serious accident occurs.

The Union pottery is turning out a campaign button that is a very neat article. It is about as large as a silver quarter and is made of porcelain. On the face is decorated a gold bug, making a pretty souvenir.

Miss Laura Bassing pleasantly entertained the senior class of Turners last evening at her home on Fourth street. The affair was given in honor of Director Will Hertel, who will depart for Milwaukee tomorrow.

The fleet of idle tow and coal boats laid up at Pittsburgh is said to be the largest in number ever known to be laid up at any one time at that port. The recent good stage let all boats get back. Most are undergoing dockage and repairs.

The remains of the late Rev. Henry Palmer, father of Captain Palmer, will be removed from Allegheny cemetery, where they were interred in 1888, and laid beside his wife, Mrs. Bella Palmer, who was buried in Grove cemetery, New Brighton, Monday afternoon.

Travelers for the potteries say they receive comparatively little trade from the western silver states at present, and it is a hard matter to dispose of ware to people living in that part of the country. The cause is attributed to the political uncertainty and free silver discussion.

The next meeting of the Ohio River Improvement association will be held in Pittsburgh Oct. 13. The organization was born last year, and its object is the improvement of the river. Its influence was felt last year, and will likely again cause a stir before the present congress dies.

E. H. McGeel, a salesman who has traveled through every part of Kentucky the past few weeks, and sounded his customers on the political situation gave as his opinion in a Fifth street grocery store last night that the state would be Republican next November by a handsome majority.

A prominent farmer living near Clarkstown told a reporter that he had heard in town of the great number of farmers in Madison township who were for free silver. He knows every man in the township, and can't remember hearing any great number declare for free coinage, neither does he know a Republican bolter to Bryan.

"Persons having normal vision will be able to read this print at a distance of 14 inches from the eye with ease and comfort. Also will be able to read each eye separately." If unable to do so your eyes are defective and should have immediate attention. When the eyes become tired from reading, or if the letters look blurred and run together, it is a sure indication that glasses are needed. The lenses used in the cheap grade are of a lower quality and will not properly focus the light. Continued use of the cheap lenses will result in positive injury to the eyes. ## COLLEGES AND CHURCHES.

The Harm That Will Come to Them If Free Silver Wins.

In a recent interview Rev. D. W. Fisher, D. D., president of Hanover (Ind.) college, gave utterance to his opinion as to the effect of the free coinage of silver at the ratio of 16 to 1 in two directions which have not hitherto been considered, and which add to the area of disaster that would be covered by Bryan's 50-cent dollars.

Dr. Fisher, in the first place, finds that the silver question specially affects the colleges, because their funds are nearly all loaned upon mortgages that run for several years. Hence under free coinage the incomes of colleges would be curtailed to the extent of the depreciation. "In other words, an income of $10,000 per year from investment of one endowment at the present rate would in reality be worth only $6,000, if the depreciation amounts to 50 per cent."

"If the colleges continue their work under such conditions the depreciation must fall upon the teaching force and salaried employees, as in time of depreciation salaries are slow to advance, and never did advance in anything like the proportion of depreciation."

Dr. Fisher, in another part of his interview, freely expressed the opinion that the influence of the proposed free coinage of silver upon the benevolent and missionary operations of the church would be most disastrous. He says:

"There is no likelihood that contributions would increase in proportion to the depreciation of our money. Curtailment of salaries, reduction in the number of missionaries, of candidates for the ministry, of aid to disabled ministers and to their widows and orphans, must follow. Foreign missions would be likely to suffer most of all. All moneys transmitted to the countries in which our foreign missionaries are laboring are, as a rule, in the shape of exchange on London. That, of course, means that it must be sent abroad in the equivalent of gold. If our contributions are made in silver, exchange in gold at a heavy premium would reduce them so enormously that I shrink from an estimate of the effect."

The extracts made above from Dr. Fisher's interview, only emphasize the widespread area of disaster which will be covered by the course of free coinage of silver in case Bryan is elected. It involves moral as well as material disaster, not alone the dishonor of the nation, the paralysis and ruin of business, the depreciation of currency values, and the swindling of creditors, but the embarrassment of and injury to the great work of colleges and churches. It would be a pestilential blight, destroying everything.—Chicago Tribune. (Rep.)

Result of Hard Times.

According to returns from township assessors, there has been a decrease the past year of 36,397 horses in Ohio. The decrease in 1895 was 28,945. The falling off in the number of cattle was 77,464, compared with a decrease of 43,204 last year. The decrease in the number of sheep the past year has been 711,986, and in 1895 was 549,779. The reduction is attributed to the hard times under the Democratic administration, business being paralyzed by free trade and the threat of continued Democratic rule.

TO GET WEYLER'S REWARD.

A Spaniard Tries to Betray Americans Into His Hand.

KEY WEST, Sept. 2.—A plot to betray a number of young men into the hands of the Spaniards has been exposed here and as a result Jose Arango fled from the city in an open boat to escape being lynched.

Arango arrived here ten days ago from Havana. He claimed to be in sympathy with the insurgents, and said he had left Havana to escape arrest as a suspect. Arango spent money freely and soon became popular with the young men of Key West.

Some days ago he proposed to charter the schooner Nonpareil and take about 50 young men on a pleasure trip of several days duration. The young men of Key West, Americans as well as Cubans, were charmed by the suggestion and the party was soon made up.

However, Ramon Portillo, a prominent Cuban, received a letter from Havana containing the information that Arango was a Spanish emissary and had been sent to Key West to betray a number of young men into the hands of Weyler.

The letter stated that Arango's proposed pleasure trip was simply a scheme to get the young men into Cuban waters, where they would be betrayed as filibusters.

The commanders of two warships were parties to the plot and they proposed to share with Arango the large reward offered by Weyler for the capture of a filibustering vessel.

SUPERVISED BY CONSULS.

They Are Preventing Mistreatment of Armenians by the Turks.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Sept. 2.—Quiet now prevails here, and it is hoped that the danger of further rioting has passed. The Turkish officials are continuing the work of clearing the khans of the Armenians who have been hidden therein and the foreign consuls are supervising this work in order to see that the conditions prescribed by the representatives of the powers are carried out.

These conditions provide that the consuls must consent to the entry of the houses, but no Armenians can be arrested without the consent of the consuls, and all arms and explosives will be handed over to the government. This search of the houses of foreigners is irritating, but it is considered necessary if the return to anarchy is to be prevented.

None of the Inmates Hurt.

A Sectional Tariff Hater.

I desire to say that I am in hearty sympathy with a majority of the committee in its decision to attack the tariff in detail; and I think that the bills which have been reported and the bills to be reported will fully answer the argument of the gentleman, that we are making only a slight assault upon the system.—Tariff Speech of William J. Bryan, March 16, 1892.

That is to say Mr. Bryan favored the most vicious class and sectional legislation ever proposed by an American congress. He was willing to make a raid, as it were, on any industry by transferring an article from the dutiable to the free list, without regard to other articles or to the justice or equality of the proceeding. Acting on this theory, the farmer's wool was made free, and the products of stronger industries permitted to remain dutiable. The manufacture of cotton ties in the United States was wiped out, while other articles on the iron and steel schedule were left untouched. This declaration stamps Mr. Bryan a destructionist, not a constructionist.—Philadelphia Press.

Sense for the Farmers.

The venerable Senator Morrill of Vermont, who understands the subject of finance and currency as well as any other man in this country, has written a short letter to the farmers of western New York, which should be read and thought about by that class of citizens in all of the states. It is as follows:

Plain farmers must be able to see that they have nothing to gain by accepting a cheap dollar for all they have to sell. They will realize less, much less, as none of their products will increase in nominal value to the same extent as the fall in value of silver. The silver standard would force our people to live on the lower scale of comforts and civilization of other silver standard countries, or as they do in Mexico and Japan, and then pay for all our tea and coffee and for the greater part of our sugar and all merchandise from Europe in gold. Farmers and wage earners will not be slow to find out all this.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

In One County Alone.

The Salem News publishes these official figures, showing how the farmers of Columbiana county have suffered loss in sheep and wool growing as a result of the victory for tariff reform in 1892. The figures show the number and valuation of sheep as returned by the assessors in Columbiana county in the year given.

Year.	Number.	Valuation.
1892.....	73,718	$197,818
1893.....	62,745	155,927
1894.....	55,475	102,848
1895.....	43,214	86,392
1896.....	36,974	54,713

These figures show that there has been a falling off of nearly 40,000 sheep in Columbiana county in four years and a decrease in valuation of $142,805. The valuation per head in 1892 for taxation was $2.68 while this year it is $1.61. This loss has come out of the pockets of the farmers of Columbiana county. Besides this loss, which is easily ascertained, there is the loss in wool from 40,000 sheep.

COLLEGES AND CHURCHES.

The Harm That Will Come to Them If Free Silver Wins.

In a recent interview Rev. D. W. Fisher, D. D., president of Hanover (Ind.) college, gave utterance to his opinion as to the effect of the free coinage of silver at the ratio of 16 to 1 in two directions which have not hitherto been considered, and which add to the area of disaster that would be covered by Bryan's 50-cent dollars.

Dr. Fisher, in the first place, finds that the silver question specially affects the colleges, because their funds are nearly all loaned upon mortgages that run for several years. Hence under free coinage the incomes of colleges would be curtailed to the extent of the depreciation. "In other words, an income of $10,000 per year from investment of one endowment at the present rate would in reality be worth only $6,000, if the depreciation amounts to 50 per cent."

"If the colleges continue their work under such conditions the depreciation must fall upon the teaching force and salaried employees, as in time of depreciation salaries are slow to advance, and never did advance in anything like the proportion of depreciation."

Dr. Fisher, in another part of his interview, freely expressed the opinion that the influence of the proposed free coinage of silver upon the benevolent and missionary operations of the church would be most disastrous. He says:

"There is no likelihood that contributions would increase in proportion to the depreciation of our money. Curtailment of salaries, reduction in the number of missionaries, of candidates for the ministry, of aid to disabled ministers and to their widows and orphans, must follow. Foreign missions would be likely to suffer most of all. All moneys transmitted to the countries in which our foreign missionaries are laboring are, as a rule, in the shape of exchange on London. That, of course, means that it must be sent abroad in the equivalent of gold. If our contributions are made in silver, exchange in gold at a heavy premium would reduce them so enormously that I shrink from an estimate of the effect."

The extracts made above from Dr. Fisher's interview, only emphasize the widespread area of disaster which will be covered by the curse of free coinage of silver in case Bryan is elected. It involves moral as well as material disaster, not alone the dishonor of the nation, the paralysis and ruin of business, the depreciation of currency values, and the swindling of creditors, but the embarrassment of and injury to the great work of colleges and churches. It would be a pestilential blight, destroying everything.—Chicago Tribune. (Rep.)

Result of Hard Times.

According to returns from township assessors, there has been a decrease the past year of 36,397 horses in Ohio. The decrease in 1895 was 28,945. The falling off in the number of cattle was 77,464, compared with a decrease of 43,204 last year. The decrease in the number of sheep the past year has been 711,986, and in 1895 was 549,779. The reduction is attributed to the hard times under the Democratic administration, business being paralyzed by free trade and the threat of continued Democratic rule.

TO GET WEYLER'S REWARD.

A Spaniard Tries to Betray Americans Into His Hand.

KEY WEST, Sept. 2.—A plot to betray a number of young men into the hands of the Spaniards has been exposed here and as a result Jose Aranjio fled from the city in an open boat to escape being lynched.

Aranjio arrived here ten days ago from Havana. He claimed to be in sympathy with the insurgents, and said he had left Havana to escape arrest as a suspect. Aranjio spent money freely and soon became popular with the young men of Key West.

Some days ago he proposed to charter the schooner Nonpareil and take about 50 young men on a pleasure trip of several days duration. The young men of Key West, Americans as well as Cubans, were charmed by the suggestion and the party was soon made up.

However, Ramon Portillo, a prominent Cuban, received a letter from Havana containing the information that the information that Aranjio was a Spanish emissary and had been sent to Key West to betray a number of young men into the hands of Weyler.

The letter stated that Aranjio's proposed pleasure trip was simply a scheme to get the young men into Cuban waters, when they would be betrayed as filibusters.

The commanders of two warships were parties to the plot and they proposed to share with Aranjio the large reward offered by Weyler for the capture of a filibustering vessel.

SUPERVISED BY CONSULS.

They Are Preventing Mistreatment of Armenians by the Turks.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Sept. 2.—Quiet now prevails here, and it is hoped that the danger of further rioting has passed. The Turkish officials are continuing the work of clearing the khans of the Armenians who have been hidden therein and the foreign consuls are supervising this work in order to see that the conditions prescribed by the representatives of the powers are carried out.

These conditions provide that the consuls must consent to the entry of the houses, but no Armenians can be arrested without the consent of the consuls, and all arms and explosives will be handed over to the government. This search of the houses of foreigners is irritating, but it is considered necessary if the return to anarchy is to be prevented.

A Sectional Tariff Hafer.

I desire to say that I am in hearty sympathy with a majority of the committee in its decision to attack the tariff in detail; and I think that the bills which have been reported and the bills to be reported will fully answer the argument of the gentleman, that we are making only a slight assault upon the system.—Tariff Speech of William J. Bryan, March 16, 1892.

That is to say Mr. Bryan favored the most vicious class and sectional legislation ever proposed by an American congress. He was willing to make a raid, as it were, on any industry by transferring an article from the dutiable to the free list, without regard to other articles or to the justice or equality of the proceeding. Acting on this theory, the farmer's wool was made free, and the products of stronger industries permitted to remain dutiable. The manufacture of cotton ties in the United States was wiped out, while other articles on the iron and steel schedule were left untouched. This declaration stamps Mr. Bryan a destructionist, not a constructionist.—Philadelphia Press.

Sense for the Farmers.

The venerable Senator Morrill of Vermont, who understands the subject of finance and currency as well as any other man in this country, has written a short letter to the farmers of western New York, which should be read and thought about by that class of citizens in all of the states. It is as follows:

Plain farmers must be able to see that they have nothing to gain by accepting a cheap dollar for all they have to sell. They will realize less, much less, as none of their products will increase in nominal value to the same extent as the fall in value of silver. The silver standard would force our people to live on the lower scale of comforts and civilization of other silver standard countries, or as they do in Mexico and Japan, and then pay for all our tea and coffee and for the greater part of our sugar and all merchandise from Europe in gold. Farmers and wage earners will not be slow to find out all this.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

In One County Alone.

The Latest News publishes these official figures, showing how the farmers of Columbiana county have suffered loss in sheep and wool growing as a result of the victory for tariff reform in 1892. The figures show the number and valuation of sheep as returned by the assessors in Columbiana county in the year given:

Year.	Number.	Valuation.
1892.....	75,718	$197,518
1893.....	62,745	155,927
1894.....	55,475	105,848
1895.....	43,214	83,332
1896.....	36,974	64,713

These figures show that there has been a falling off of nearly 40,000 sheep in Columbiana county in four years and a decrease in valuation of $142,805. The valuation per head in 1892 for taxation was $2.68 while this year it is $1.61. This loss has come out of the pockets of the farmers of Columbiana county. Besides, there is the loss in wool from 40,000 sheep.
